

As an amateur radio operator, I am concerned that testing has not proven that harmful interference to the HF amateur bands can be eliminated. At least one report I read indicated that the BPL provider is trying to define "harmful" in a less strict sense.